E-Safety Advice

CEOP (Child Exploitation and Online Protection) have just added some new resources aimed at younger children to the 'Think You Know' website. There are films you can watch with your children to start a discussion about online safety. One set of films is aimed at 4 to 7 year olds called Jessie and Friends and another set of films aimed at 8-10 year olds called Play Like Share. Both films give parents an opportunity to have an open conversation with their children about how to behave online so that they can keep themselves safe. The website also gives you advice about what you need to know and how to manage your child's online activity. We hope you will find these useful.
